3. Classified Bulletin Board: As a general rule we think of the Classified Bulletin Board as being the Director's method of communicating with all employees. On a one-shot basis, we see no objection to putting up for, let us say, a week the MSAG flyer which publicizes the organization and solicits items for discussion. We are always looking for meaningful material for the Classified Bulletin Board and welcome the suggestions of others, but we are opposed to the one-line summaries. Our concern is that they might raise more questions than they would answer. In addition, the office responsible for the regulation, etc. might be placed in the position of answering unnecessary, numerous questions that will no doubt be covered when the notice, regulation, etc. is published in its entirety.
